From Our Corner...

Our normal Sunday morning begins with a cup of coffee and the sports section at the counter overlooking our back yard with hopes of watching an Oriole come in and sample some orange juice, along with motivating on what the heck am I going to fill the turkey with this week...

This week is entirely different...the motivation occurred last Wednesday afternoon when Rev. Derik Roy, pastor of St. Francis Church came to see me...

Rev. Roy's mission was to see if we could help in any way to promote a benefit dinner for a family here in Grayling...

When Rev. Roy mentioned Dick Trudeau, we became humble...we have known Dick since he was a youngun, in fact he graduated with our daughter Toni...

Of late, Dick has had his trials and tribulations with his health, and in fact the family at first did not wish anything like what is planned for them...they are a proud family, but there comes a time of need...

Ron Fraser, owner of the Holiday Inn, is sponsoring a swiss steak dinner on Tuesday, June 4th in the Evergreen Room with 100% proceeds going to the Dick Trudeau Fund...serving is from 5 til 8 and the tariff is $5.00 or more if you wish to give per person...if you have any youngsters under 5, they eat free...so don't let that hold you back...

Tickets are available through the local churches and service clubs...for any further information you wish, contact Rev. Roy at St. Francis Episcopal Church...

Everyone reads about CARE for Africa, CARE for South America, CARE for Korea...how about a little CARE in Grayling...join Ron and Hertha at the Holiday Inn Tuesday, June 4th...

We had a minor boo-boo in our column last week...we had Judge Emil getting his eagle on No. 7 hole on Tuesday...the Judge plays in the Wednesday men's league with his brother Bill, and I should have realized this but, it was added to last week's efforts at my deadline for the turkey or I catch heck from Rena...Emil has told me before he is too busy on Tuesday for the golf league but, on Wednesday's it's different, and he still will be available on Wednesday afternoon's if anyone would like to have a few lessons on chipping...

We have a newcomer in our back yard...Sunday morning as we sipped on coffee and checked the sports pages, we noticed the chipmunk up on the picnic table after his morning orange juice, and a few minutes later, a baby rabbit entered the scene from somewhere, the two didn't seem to bother each other as they went their separate ways...our first thought was, not another one after the oranges...I really don't think a rabbit can hop up onto a picnic table, but I have been wrong many times...the problem is, they are all fun to watch...

While on the topic of the wild kingdom, we have to mention that on our way down to the office Sunday, a flock of geese were on their way north, honking all the way...that has to be another signal that summer is here at last...

The weather man didn't cooperate very well for Memorial Day weekend, the sky was overcast most of the time, and the temperature got only into the middle 60's...in fact it rained both Saturday and Sunday night's enough to keep our bride away from the links both days, this didn't help the atmosphere around the house...

The American Legion parade, although small, was a success and the services honoring those who died for their country was the main purpose...we dislike mentioning that Grayling's main street was conspicuous by the absence of flags, also a symbol of respect for those who paid the supreme sacrifice...think about it...

This takes care of our efforts for this week, so we will bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight, and to our readers have a nice weekend, it appears summer is about to be with us...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

LIBERTY IN AMERICA

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." One unalienable right of Liberty is religious freedom. Some secular historians would trace our concept of separation of church and state in America back to the famous 17th century English philosopher John Locke. When John Locke, the author of "Civil Government", was being put forward by Lord Chancellor King as the author of religious liberty, Locke would now allow this, declaring in his "Essay of Toleration," "The Baptists were the first and only propounders of absolute liberty—just and true liberty, equal and impartial liberty."

Stoughton's "Ecclesiastical History of England," II, page 232, states, "The Baptists were foremost in the advocacy of religious freedom, and perhaps to one of them, Leonard Busher, citizen of London, belongs the honour of presenting, in this country, the first distinct and broad plea for liberty of conscience." Busher wrote the first book in England advocating liberty of conscience which greatly influenced John Locke.

John Locke, believing that property is not limited to external possession of things, territory, and other people, but also to the internal conscience of man, wrote, "The supreme power cannot take from any man any part of his property without his own consent. For the preservation of property being the end of government, and that for which men enter into society, it necessarily supposes and requires, that the people should have property...men therefore in society having property, they have such a right to goods, which by the law of the community are theirs, that nobody hath a right to take their substance or any part of it from them, without their own consent: without this they have no property at all. For I have truly no property in that which another can by right take from me, when he pleases against my consent."

No one has "rights" above the unalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. When individual "rights" of humanists become a predominate threat to the life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness of other Americans, our existence as a free country is underdetermined. If we do not preserve these "unalienable rights" now by the legal process of reformation, we shall find later that our only alternative is revolution. As in the past, Baptists are still on the cutting edge in our struggle to preserve liberty and freedom for all people. Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness are unalienable rights because they are given us by our creator God. Only victory or death can silence our struggle to restore these rights to every human being in America. We honor our American dead who died for liberty.

GHS Students Attend Foreign Language Day

Forty-seven Grayling High School Spanish students, with their instructor Nancy Lemmen, participated in the 13th annual Foreign Language Day at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant, on Friday, March 29.

The students were among 2,500 who participated in song, dance, skit, display, and poetry interpretation competitions in French, German, Russian, and Spanish languages.

Twelve students won Honorable Mention with their Spanish song entry, "El Rancho Grande." Performers included: Kathy Allen (11th), Michelle Barber (12th), Beth Bedard (11th), Jodie Christman (12th), Tim Cook (9th), Leanne Hunter (11th), Angie Larson (9th), Jeff Martinez (11th), Jenny Money (9th), Kevin Reynolds (11th), Scott Rochette (9th), and Debbie Schanz (10th).

Three students also won Honorable Mention with their poetry interpretations: Shelly Brooks (10th), Kim McDonough (10th), and Brenda Prause (12th).

Golnick Named Vice Chairperson

The newly elected regional officers for Region VIII & IX of the Michigan Municipal League are Manistee Mayor Pro Tem John T. Della Pia, Chairperson; Grayling Councilman Robert Golnick, Vice Chairperson; and Alpena City Manager Allen H. Green, Secretary.

Approximately 60 mayors, village presidents and other elected and appointed municipal officials attended the annual Region VIII & IX meeting of the Michigan Municipal League on May 16, 1985, at which new officers were elected. The city of Tawas City served as the host city.

Regional meetings have been held by the Michigan Municipal League for the past 32 years in ten regions in the state. These area meetings serve to bring more than 485 member cities and villages into closer contact with the League and to provide the opportunity for an exchange of ideas and cooperative action in matters of mutual concern. This year's program theme was "Strategic Planning: Action not Reaction", and included sessions on implementing the strategic planning process in Michigan municipalities, public sector collective bargaining, infrastructure and leadership. A banquet followed the afternoon meeting.

The Michigan Municipal League, founded in 1899, is the statewide association of cities and villages serving to unite members in collectively striving for home rule and promoting higher standards of local government.

Completes Marine Training

Marine Pfc. Gregory W. Helsel, son of Carolyn I. and Ralph Helsel Jr. of 10251 Oak Road, Roscommon, has completed recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

During the 11-week training cycle, Helsel was taught the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

Gen-Tel "Subscriber Line" Charge Starts in June

Many telephone customers nationwide start paying a $1 per month "subscriber line charge" on June 1 as part of a ruling by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), according to H.M. Preston, state vice president-general manager for General Telephone of Michigan.

The subscriber line charge, sometimes called an access charge, applies to each residential and single-line business customer. It has been ordered by the FCC to help cover the cost of linking local customers to switching center equipment. The FCC instituted similar charges on multiline business customers in May 1984.

"Traditionally, customers paid only part of the cost of local service through basic monthly telephone rates," Preston said. "The rest has been subsidized by customers making long distance calls."

In effect, customers have been charged more than necessary for long distance calls, with the excess used to help hold down the cost of providing local service, he said.

But with growing competition in the long distance markets, Preston said artificially high rates - and the resulting subsidies to local service - are no longer possible.

The subscriber line charge will help cover more of the cost of providing local service, Preston said. As this occurs, an offsetting reduction in interstate long distance rates also is expected.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

Currently, two debates are raging within Michigan's community of sportsmen. One concerns the hunting of bears; pitting those hunters who wish to use hounds and those who utilize bait against each other. The other debate concerns that portion of the AuSable River Mainstream from Burton's Landing to Wakeley Bridge. One group of fishermen feel that "No-Kill" regulations should be instituted in this stretch of river, while another group feels that the decision to kill or release a fish is an individual's choice and should not be mandated.

On the surface, there seems to be little in common between these questions. But a very important similarity exists. Both debates are resulting in sportsmen spending time, energy and money fighting amongst themselves. At a time when hunting, fishing and trapping are coming under increasing attack by certain groups in our society, those who stand to lose the most are engaged in acrimonious howling at each other.

Everyone involved wants the same result in the end - the wise use of a renewable resource which results in a sustained yield over time. Those folks who want no use of the resource whatsoever must enjoy watching sportsmen spend their energy on each other rather than on the ones who represent the real threat.

Potpourri: Contra Contradiction?

by Richard Milliman

TIME ONCE MORE for one of our infrequent strolls — barefoot among the potpourri...

THE POLICIES of the United States toward Central America have roused as much public discussion and editorial comment around the country as any issue in recent memory. The vote in Congress denying aid to the anti-Sandinista contras in Nicaragua was a recent rallying point in the continuing controversy.

The Detroit News, in an editorial condemning the denial of U.S. aid to the anti-Sandinistas, pointed to a couple of other near-simultaneous events in honing its criticism of the congressional majority.

One event was a resolution passed by the House praising the Cuban freedom fighters of 24 years ago, who failed at the Bay of Pigs invasion which sought to unseat Fidel Castro. Lack of U.S. aid was one reason often cited for the Bay of Pigs failure.

And the other event was Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega's trip to Moscow to seek Russian aid; Ortega left almost before the votes were counted in the House spurning President Reagan's request for funds for the anti-Ortega contras.

Said the News editorial: "Maybe 24 years from now, after Danny Ortega's 48th trip to discuss economic aid with the monarchs of the Soviet empire, with the president of the United States pleading for $14 million to support Mexican contras with their backs to the Rio Grande, it will occur to some bright congressmen to introduce a resolution commemorating Adolfo Calero and his dead comrades of the Nicaraguan Democratic Force. Maybe they'll even pass out medals."

Somewhat bitter comments; but an overstatement? I certainly hope so. But maybe not.

ACCORDING TO the U.S. Census Bureau, almost half of all the households in the United States receive government benefits in some form.

More than 39 million households — or 46.7 percent of the total — took part in one or more government programs in 1984. Social Security benefits were the most common assistance program, going to at least one person in 28 percent of all households.

Staggering statistics, indeed. When we reach the point where more than half the people in the country live off the government, it's all downhill from there for our society as we have lived it. And we're almost there.

Is it any wonder it's so difficult for elected officials to cut down on spending, when so many voters depend upon it?

IN INDIA at least 556 newlywed Indian women last year were victims of something called "dowry deaths." They were murdered in their in-laws' homes because the brides failed to bring a large enough dowry to suit the husband's family.

The Indian government bans the dowry, and police take severe action when "dowry deaths" are discovered. Yet the instances are increasing.

In our country, we shake our heads in disbelief. Tragic as the practice is, it underlines the fact that most of the world is far different than we are in customs and practices. Too often, it seems, we ignore the differences, insisting on our ways, which is one reason we seem to have such a tough time getting along in the world.

SOME CLOSING capsules:

Syndicated columnist Sydney Harris points out that last year, Americans paid tax collectors $77 billion more than they spent for basic necessities, such as food, clothing and shelter. Now take a look at the item above about government benefits. It all seems to fit.

A favorite quote comes from a Florida high school coach, who was picked up for drunk driving in another town and hid the fact from his bosses. Eventually they found out, and the coach faced severe reprimand. Said the coach: "Knowing what I know now, I would definitely come forward. If I had it to do over...well, I just wouldn't do it over."

I also liked former baseball superstar Denny McLain's quote after he was found guilty on all those criminal charges, also in Florida. Sand Denny: "I don't know how you get to where I am from where I was 17 years ago."

Suppose it's the Florida sunshine that spawns such wisdom?

Trivia columnist L.M. Boyd points out: "Just sitting there, you're moving in at least four directions at once: around the earth's axis, around the sun, around the Milky Way and off with the galaxy into space." No wonder I get tired so easily.

Facts About Teenage Drunk Driving

As we approach this 1985 graduation season, we all need to be mindful that 25,000 Americans lose their lives in alcohol related traffic deaths each year. Young adults, 15-24 years old, comprise 20% of these tragic statistics. It's time every community made a concerted effort to stop this terrible waste of young lives.

Although drunk driving is a problem that pervades all age groups of our licensed population, it is especially severe for teenagers. The combination of learning how to drive, youthful risk-taking behavior, and drinking is accounting for the number one killer of teenagers in the country. Consider these facts:

- Teenage drivers are involved in 1 out of every 6 fatal motor vehicle accidents that occur, with close to 6,700 teenagers (15-19 years old) killed each year.

- Almost 60 percent of fatally injured teenage drivers were found to have alcohol in their blood systems prior to their crash, with 43 percent at legally intoxicating levels (i.e. greater than or equal to 0.10 percent blood alcohol concentration).

- Of the 25,000 persons who die each year in drunk driving accidents, 4,000 of those victims are teenagers. That means that 11 teenagers die each day in drunk driving accidents.

- Alcohol involvement in teenage fatal accidents is at least three times greater in nighttime accidents (between 8 p.m. & 4 a.m.) than it is in daytime accidents (between 4 a.m. & 8 p.m.).

- Teenage drivers are involved in 1 out of every 4 injury accidents, with a total of 650,000 being injured each year. Alcohol is involved in close to 20 percent of injury producing accidents, which means that 130,000 teenagers are injured per year in drunk driving accidents. So, 11 teenagers die and an additional 360 teenagers are injured in alcohol-related crashes per day.

- Although teenagers comprise only 8 percent of the driver population and account for only 6 percent of the vehicle miles travelled in this country, they add up to 17 percent of all alcohol involved drivers and at least 15 percent of all drunk drivers in accidents.

- Think of this: Of 330 children born today in the U.S. (about the size of a small grade school), one will die and four will sustain serious or crippling injuries in an alcohol-related crash before they reach the age of 24.

- The Surgeon General has reported that life expectancy has improved in the U.S. over the past 75 years for every age group except one. The exception is the 15-24 year old American whose death rate is higher today than it was 20 years ago. And the leading single cause of death for this age group is Drunk Driving.

- Insurance companies have estimated that teenage drunk driving accidents are costing society close to $6 billion per year in damage, hospital costs, lost work, etc.

Adult community persons must support school and private organizations such as MADD and SADD efforts to provide alternative alcohol free activities. We must support our local police, court and community based substance abuse agencies in their efforts to deal with drunk driving offenses via prompt hearings and immediate referrals for alcohol and drug education classes and treatment when warranted.

Telling a teenager not to drink and drive often isn't enough. We must support our local service systems in their efforts to curb this ongoing tragedy.

Tax Package Introduced, Action Hoped For by June

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

A "tax fairness" plan, first announced several weeks ago by Governor James Blanchard as a way to close loopholes and provide income and property tax cuts, was recently introduced in the House of Representatives.

The package of 11 bills, with three yet to be introduced, gives lawmakers their first look at the specific details of the proposed $188 million in permanent tax shifts and $100 million in one-time revenue gains to finance the income tax rollback.

House Taxation Committee Chairman Representative Lynn Jondahl (D-East Lansing) said the first meetings will be devoted to briefing by staff and administration officials, followed by public testimony.

He said the committee will also be discussing the Senate-passed $390 million income tax rollback plan and would send the package to the full House by the first week of June.

The package includes such new revenue measures as military pay income tax, subjecting 100 percent rather than 40 percent of capital gains to the income tax, an intangibles tax on financial institutions of 40 cents per $1,000, a domestic insurance tax as high as that for foreign companies with a phased-out small business exemption, and a sales tax on computer software.

That would pay for expanded property tax credits (for persons whose taxes exceed 3 percent, rather than 3.5 percent of income) and provide a business tax deduction for research and development costs.

One-time revenue sources of a two-year increase in the intangibles tax of $1.50 per $1,000 on financial institutions to recoup taxes ruled unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, and a 45-60 days tax amnesty period would support a 10 percent property tax bonus this year and advance the rollback of the income tax rate to 4.6 percent on July 1, 1986 instead of October 1, 1987.

Bills yet to be introduced are three which would allow for payment of the property tax credit when a taxpayer pays the tax as opposed to receiving the credit now when the taxpayer files for his or her income tax return.

House Minority Leader Michael Busch (R-Saginaw) said Republicans still want to take action on the income tax rollback before the other parts of the package and still felt the Senate-passed proposal which imposes the rollback to 4.6 percent from the current 5.35 percent on January 1, 1986, "makes a lot of sense."

BLANCHARD ASKS CONGRESS TO REAUTHORIZE SUPERFUND

Declaring Michigan still needs federal help for a $2.9 billion cleanup of 666 toxic waste sites, Governor Blanchard urged Congress to reauthorize a revised Superfund cleanup law.

The Governor sent letters to the state's congressional members saying efforts to eradicate the toxic hazards have been hampered by inadequate federal funds and excessive red tape.

Under current provisions, "finishing cleanup at Michigan's hundreds of waste sites will require 200 years. Our state's first priority must be expansion of Superfund's resources to accelerate the sluggish cleanup process," the Governor said.

The Superfund, which provided $1.5 billion since 1980, expires September 30. The Governor proposed a $9 billion plan for the next five years.

And, in an accompanying paper, he said a strict timetable needs to be established for review by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency of cleanup requests and additional laboratory capacity should be provided.

He said it took 13 months for the EPA to review a state request for immediate removal of toxic waste drums from a Livingston County site.

In other changes, Blanchard said the state share of long-term maintenance costs should be considered when analyzing the cost-effectiveness of alternative methods of dealing with toxic waste pollution.

He noted a groundwater purging and treatment system for residents at a Battle Creek site will cost the state $500,000 a year for decades.

The Governor said persons living near waste sites should have a specific cause of action under the law to sue responsible parties for damages and should receive advance notice of all cleanup actions.

You Did It Again!

One hundred and six of you wonderful Blood Donors came to the American Legion Hall May 22nd to give a pint of your precious blood to help save the life of some fellow citizen, and, by so doing, made 1985 Red Cross Fiscal Year a record one for Blood Donors.

But, even more exciting, was the amazing list of high gallon achievers all of whom received pins in honor of their accomplishment.

Alan Etson gave his 120th pint, 15 gallons, more than ten times his body's normal supply of blood.

Bernie Fowler reached 8 gallons; Georgina Wilcox, 6 gallons; Dawn Kubesh, 5 gallons; Betty Bennett, 3 gallons; Dale Papendick, 3 gallons; Eugenia Roemer, 3 gallons; Eugene Kindler, 2 gallons; Mark Zelek, 2 gallons; Kimberly Wicklund, 2 gallons; Sister Cecelia Faber, 1 gallon.

We salute all of you - the great Blood Donors of Crawford County!

This is pretty much like shutting the barn door after the horse has run off, but there is something you can do for the frost on your plants - be they veggies, herbs, or flowers. One, you can cover them with paper hats or cloches, or secondly - which is what I do - you can go out in the morning of the frost before the sun shines upon the plants and water them down. This applies to your fruit trees as well.

When there is a frost, the cells of the plants swell up like ice cubes. When the sun's rays hit the plants the cells burst open, thus, turning the plant black. Those of you with microwave ovens know that when you put a raw egg in its shell in the microwave and turn on the oven, the egg will usually explode. This same principle applies to the bursting of plant cells. The water sprayed quickly on the plants is warmer than the frost. The water warms the plant's cells which puts the cells back to their original liquid state.

All flowers were in a spring motif provided by Flowers by Josie. The Altar basket of hand-woven reeds was filled with spring flowers of white Iris, Lilacs, Tulips, Astremerious, Statice, Heather, Friesia, & Pussy Willows. Pew bows were white with Astremerious and yellow Tulips.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Fijolek of Grayling. She is a graduate of Grayling High School, attended the Louise Hayes & Meg Nutting School of Dance, and graduated in 1984 from the Kellogg Community College with a degree in physical therapy.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Norman of Grayling. He is a graduate of Grayling High School and graduated in 1984 from Northern Michigan University. Data processing and other business curriculum was studied.

The bride wore a cream colored high necked European calf length dress with re-embroidered trim. She wore a garden hat with blush and shoulder veil with the same re-embroidered trim to match the gown; lace hose, and bone shoes. The bride's grandmother presented her with an antique Cameo that belonged to the bride's great grandmother to wear with her wedding outfit.

The bride carried a garden bouquet of white Iris, Lilacs, Tulips, Astremerious, Statice, and streams of ribbon.

The bride's sister, Theresa Fijolek of Columbia, Ohio, was her attendant. She wore an off white 40's style silk crepe dress with pearls and bone pumps. Her flowers were the same as the bride's only in yellows and creams.

The groom's high school buddy & friend, Tim Sloan, served as his best man. The brothers of the groom, Rick Norman and Terry Norman served as ushers.

The groom's boutonniere was a fressia to match the bride's bouquet. The men wore boutonnières of yellow Astremerious.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fijolek wore a silk crepe 40's style dress trimmed in cream re-embroidered crepe at v-neck with opera pearls and taupe pumps. A garden corsage was carried on her purse.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Norman, wore a rose lace and silk crepe dress with matching rose shoes. A garden corsage was carried on her purse.

The reception was held in the Copper Kettle Room at the Arrowhead Inn with extra copper containers filled with spring flowers to carry out the theme of the wedding. After the reception, the family returned to the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Louise Hayes of Grayling assisted the bride in cutting and serving the cake.

Out of town guests included the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Neva Giffre, his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Giffre of Traverse City, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Weiss - a childhood friend and former resident of Grayling from Colorado, the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gilbert of Avoca, Michigan, the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Gilbert from Richmond, Michigan, and the bride's cousin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mitchell of Detroit.

After a week of sun, swimming, scuba diving, and sightseeing in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, the couple will reside in Farmington Hills, Mich.

SUPPORTS VOLUNTEERS — Crawford AuSable School District superintendent Kent Reynolds received the first special award given by the school volunteer program for his support of the program. Lillian Wolf, volunteer aide coordinator, presented Reynolds the award at the annual school volunteer recognition dinner May 17. Reynolds said the district's 108 volunteers saved the school district more than a quarter of a mill by donating 7,800 hours, and more importantly, helped students throughout the system make academic gains.

Free Entrance to all State Park and Recreation Areas June 2

Lansing — Come and enjoy a day at the beach, a family picnic or a hike on the trails at one of the 89 State Park and Recreation Areas scattered throughout Michigan on June 2. The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Parks Division is hosting a statewide "parks" open house that day. The public may enter State Park and Recreation Areas without a motor vehicle permit in celebration of the open house.

A multitude of recreational activities for all ages are provided year-round, says DNR Parks Division Chief Jack Butterfield. Historic sites and exhibits and beautiful lakes for swimming, boating and fishing are just a sampling of the many offerings.

Outstanding Upper Peninsula scenic State Park sites include the Tahquamenon Falls State Park. Here, says Butterfield, one can take a rowboat ride to the island at the lower falls, or follow winding trails to the impressive Upper Tahquamenon Falls. A raft ride over Michigan's largest springs also offers a thrill to those visiting Palms Book State Park.

Additional U.P. sites include a ghost town in Fayette State Park; Fort Wilkins State Park and Porcupine Mountain State Park, Michigan's largest wilderness State Park, not only offers impressive scenery and miles of trails, but interpretive shows and exhibits too.

In the lower peninsula, one can explore a logging camp that revives Michigan's white pine logging era at Hartwick Pines State Park or climb Lake Michigan sand dunes and learn about them too at the interpretive center at Hoffmaster State Park. A visit to the Living Farm at Maybury State Park or a close-up view of ships from all over the world at the St. Clair River at Algonac State Park also offer a unique outing for the family.

Canoe rides down the Huron River are available from the Proud Lake Recreation Area or one may sharpen his/her aim at the modern shooting range at Bald Mountain Recreation Area, just another sample of the varied activities enjoyed at State Park and Recreation Areas throughout Michigan.

State Park and Recreation Areas are open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Park brochures may be obtained from DNR Information Services Center, P.O. Box 30028, Lansing, Michigan, 48909 (517-373-1220) and at all State Park and Recreation Areas.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Park Interpreter

On the fourteenth I spent a portion of the afternoon along the South boundary of the park. What I was looking for I did not find, but that does not mean there was not much to see. A coyote had left evidence of its passage, along with the birds one would expect to see I saw a Rufous Sided Towhee. The fiddle heads were up and the warm weather had speeded the growth of the other plants as well. The flowers no exception. I really did not think much about just when certain flowers should be blooming when I found Marsh Marigold, Gold Thread, Wood Anemone and Gay Wings in flower, but when I found Wild Strawberries in the railroad grade my curiosity was aroused.

Over the years I have kept track of the dates when the various flowers in the park have reached their peak. That list shows the normal date for the Marsh Marigold to be in full bloom is May 11, with the Gold Thread following by the 15th. The diminutive Gay or Fringed Polygala may bloom earlier, but I have found it by May 18. The white bloom of the Wood Anemone is at its peak by the 20th, while the Wild Strawberry usually does not appear until the first of June.

Dear Sir:

I shall attempt to respond to the controversial article entitled: "To Kill or not to Kill Trout".

The author gives considerable supportive evidence that it would be a wise move to designate the stretch on the AuSable River from Burton's Landing to Wakeley's Bridge as a "No-Kill" stretch. He continues to contradict this position when he quotes the DNR census that says that one out of four fishermen continue to kill trout on the mainstream. This means that 75% are already returning the fish.

My feeling is this: if 75% are already returning the fish, why bother with restrictions that would deprive that person who would like to keep his fish?

I live in the bait area of the river and enjoy tagging my fish and keeping a record in a log book; but I do like to feel free enough to take a fish home when I wish.

It seems to me that there are always those that try their best to push through legislation that will cater to the privileged elite. Let's leave the river as it is! Freedom is a privilege to be enjoyed and respected.

Sincerely Yours,
William H. Fraser

Editor's Mailbox

Dear Mr. Madsen:

With your permission, I would like to reply to the letter from Benjamin F. Butts in the May 23rd issue of the Avalanche. I would like to thank you, Mr. Butts, for your comments on "The Bible Speaks". I appreciate opposition and criticism much more than apathy. The bottom line of your article indicates the reason for your letter: "The 'Reverend' owes us an apology." Fine. I publicly apologize to you Mr. Butts for any personal offense from any of my articles in the Avalanche. I cannot and will not apologize for the Bible or any truth I have proclaimed.

Throughout your letter you used the term "Reverend" in a manner indicating possible contempt. I also agree with you. I personally reserve all reverence for God alone. The title "Reverend" for a human is offensive to me. "The Most Reverend", "The Right Reverend" and "His Holiness" are also examples of human exaltation through titles. Apart from my name, I have no title, and desire none. Holding the office of pastor, I am not offended if people respect that office by calling me "pastor". In fact, just to avoid offending anyone else by names and titles, in the future my public correspondence will be signed "Pastor 'B'".

There was no intention to brand every traveling salesman a whoremonger. However, the seriousness of AIDS demands that we be honest and truthful with each other if we are to curb the problem. We merely used this illustration of how AIDS can be transferred from one area of the country to another apart from homosexual activity. Every American has some reason for precaution and concern.

Concerning the May 2nd and May 9th articles in "The Bible Speaks", your bottom line was: "But such drivels." Attacks upon the spread of AIDS and Atheism may seem like nonsense to you Mr. Butts, but to many of us they are life threatening and serious. AIDS is a threat to the physical life of every American. Atheism is a threat to the spiritual life of every American. Yes, we believe in pluralism. We are not calling for the death of homosexuals or the banning of Atheists. Believing in pluralism, we have as much right to say they are wrong as they do to say we are wrong. It is interesting that it is not considered "Hitler's censorship" when the Bible and prayer are removed from public education, but when we attack AIDS and Atheism, you say it is "Hitler's censorship" which the "Reverend" and Jerry Falwell would like to impose on all but the "Born again Christian."

Bridget Hoffman visited Mrs. Knibbs class on Friday, May 17. We got to ask her questions about her career. One person asked were you ever in a horror movie? Of course she said no, but it still made me giggle because she is so pretty.

She was in some shows and in some commercials. In one commercial she was Dorothy, from the Wizard of Oz. Many girls tried out for the commercial, but Bridget got it. Before she went to California, she worked for her father, Dr. Hoffman. (By Katie Smock)

May is High Blood Pressure Month

Check Your Blood Pressure FREE At Mac's Drug Store

122 Michigan Ave., Grayling, MI. — 517-348-2181

"SERVING GRAYLING FOR OVER 55 YEARS"

Free blood pressure testing during all business hours. Everyone is welcome.

Why should we measure blood pressure?
High blood pressure should be kept in check because it can contribute to heart disease, strokes and kidney disease. In general, the lower your blood pressure, the longer you will live.

What is normal blood pressure?
This chart should serve as a reference for adults

Pressure	Systolic	Diastolic
Normal	139 or less	89 or less
Borderline	140-159	90-94
High	160 or more	95 or more

How often should I check my blood pressure?

To determine your average or typical blood pressure, test it 5-10 times over a period of 3-10 days and determine the average. Then if your average blood pressure is in the normal range, check it again once or twice a year.

If your average blood pressure is in the borderline or high range, consult a physician to discuss your blood pressure record.

Finally, don't forget that it's normal for measurements taken just minutes apart to vary as much as 10-30 points. So the average is very important.

Care enough about yourself to drop by and check your blood pressure. Remember, it's free.

WE CARE ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

GTE Installs New Switching System

The present switching office in Grayling is being replaced by one of the most advanced, computer-controlled, telephone switching systems available, said Joel Sietsema, Customer Service Manager for General Telephone of Michigan.

The new system will mean more efficient handling of customer calls and offer a wider range of service and maintenance features not readily available in the system it is replacing.

Sietsema explained that the system will utilize digital technology. Each customer's voice is sampled 8,000 times per second to create "on" and "off" electronic pulses, called binary digits. The digits or "voice bits" will be transmitted through the switch at a rate of more than 1.5 million voice bits per second. In addition, the computer's self diagnostic capability can quickly pinpoint trouble.

The new system will feature twin computers that automatically take over call processing and other functions to complete telephone calls if a problem does occur. The computers continuously cross-check each other. If an error is detected, it is displayed at a console and printed out for a technician to read and correct.

"The computer's large memory capacity can provide optional customer calling features. Advanced customer features including call waiting, three-way calling, call forwarding, and speed calling. These features will be offered shortly after the switch is placed in service," Sietsema said.

The Grayling switch is presently scheduled to be placed in service in October, 1985. The equipment is being installed by General Telephone of Michigan's central office equipment installers.

General of Michigan, with state headquarters in Muskegon, serves more than 400,000 customers in 178 exchanges in 61 counties. It is a part of GTE Midwestern Telephone Operations, Westfield, Ind., and a wholly owned subsidiary of GTE Corp., Stanford, Conn.

La Leche League Celebrate Second Founding

La Leche League of Grayling-Roscommon is pleased to be among the 3,800 La Leche League (LLL) Groups in the U.S.A. and 42 other countries celebrating the organization's Second Founding. LLL is a mother-to-mother helping network which provides information and encouragement to breastfeeding mothers. Currently, 62% of new mothers in the U.S.A. breast-feed their babies.

The Second Founding of La Leche League was announced in October, 1984 by the 29 year old organization's international headquarters in Franklin Park, Illinois. An immediate influx of cash was needed. LLL Groups all over the world were asked to join together in fund-raising projects to support the Second Founding. LLL of Grayling-Roscommon participated by sending appeal letters to past members and raised $150.00.

In just eight weeks, the LLL Groups responded by raising over $200,000. Raising this amount is a remarkable accomplishment since the membership consists primarily of mothers with young children, who were also busy with holiday plans during November and December. The successful fund drive is seen as a tribute to their strong belief in the importance of their organization.

Other Second Founding activities will continue throughout the year as part of the League's commitment to today's breastfeeding mothers and their families. The Grayling-Roscommon Group has been serving this community for eight years. Monthly meetings are open to all women who are interested in breastfeeding. Nursing babies are welcome to attend along with their mothers.

"Baby Arrives; the Family and the Breastfed Baby" will be the topic for discussion at the June meeting of the Grayling-Roscommon La Leche League. The meeting will be held on Thursday, June 6 at 7:30 p.m. at 704 Ionia Street, Grayling. For further information, or for breastfeeding help, call Carolyn Crist at 275-8431.

RSVP Reports

By Aleta Thompson, Director

We are busy signing up volunteers for the Crawford County Historical Museum and the Fish Hatchery for the summer. There are still openings for anyone interested. If you like to visit with folks here is a good opportunity for you.

RSVP is a challenging and rewarding program here in Grayling. Our volunteers serve an average of four hours a month. The only criteria for participation in RSVP is that a person be 60 years or older.

The grant year 84-85 is coming to an end May 31. During this year there were many changes. RSVP has remained a strong viable program responding to the continuing needs of the community. Unusual and difficult tasks were performed with ease and expertise. Whether it's delivering meals, tutoring children, serving at the hospital or any of the other stations, our volunteers have met the challenge and deserve a pat on the back for a job well done! Let's make 85-86 even a bigger and better year for RSVP!

Forestry

Many people are busy at this time of year planting a garden. In a couple of weeks the seedlings that sprout will need to be thinned out. The seedlings that are left in the garden will be evenly spaced and able to obtain enough sunlight, water and nutrients to grow into strong plants.

In some ways, a woodlot is much like a garden! The trees in a woodlot need to be well-spaced and periodically thinned. Each species of tree has a particular spacing that permits the best growth. In woodlots which are periodically thinned, the low-value species and poor quality or diseased trees are removed. The removed trees can often be sold for firewood, pulp or logs to provide the landowner with income. The trees left in the woodlot are healthier and more vigorous due to increased sunlight, water and nutrients available.

A managed woodlot that is periodically thinned to a proper level will be much more productive and yield more profit. A managed woodlot can also provide a better habitat for wildlife, and be a more aesthetically pleasing area to enjoy recreational activities. A forester can inspect your woodlot free of charge to determine thinning or other management needs. For forestry assistance, contact the Crawford-Roscommon Soil Conservation District at 409 Lake Street in Roscommon; P.O. Box 156; or phone 275-5231.

How ABWA Scholarships Were Used

A Special Education teacher in the Huron School District, New Boston, Michigan states that the Grayling Chapter of the American Business Womens Association helped "lighten" the financial load of her education.

Janet Papendick Harrison, daughter of Kip and Joan Papendick of Grayling, received an ABWA scholarship in 1975 to Central Michigan University. She graduated from that University and taught special education for five years in the Johannesburg-Lewiston schools. Her classes consisted of students of all age and grade levels.

During this period, she married William Harrison, who is also in the education field. In July, 1984, they moved to New Boston where Mr. Harrison assumed the position of principal at Huron High School.

Mrs. Harrison is currently teaching special education at the kindergarten through eighth grade level. She is also working on her Masters degree in Education and hopes to complete this by December, 1985.

Mrs. Harrison expressed her appreciation to ABWA for its help in providing a scholarship and particularly for letting her know that others were interested in her future.

Bald Eagle Home

A nearby osprey nest has also added to the problem. One DNR official said the people causing the worst problems usually have a camera in their hands.

Taylor said the nest in the meridian has been there for more than 20 years and was built before the highway was built. A nest the eagles had been using nearby blew down in a storm last year. The pair had been using the tree in the meridian as a perch tree and moved into the nest this year.

The DNR may cut down the meridian nest later this year when the young are gone and build a platform on the eagles' old nesting tree nearby. They would put back the nest that was blown down to try to attract the eagles.

But there's one reason some DNR officials would like to leave the eagles alone.

"This could be a very valuable pair of eagles," Taylor said, "because they're not as bothered by traffic or people as other eagles."

Taylor said if the eagles could pass this behavior on to their young it could be the start of a behavior change in eagles that would help them tolerate humans more. Currently, most eagles nest in areas away from human development.

CHRISTENING OF SHIP — "I christen this ship PFC Dewayne T. Williams. May God bless her and all who sail in her." With these words at ceremonies held May 18 at General Dynamics Quincy Shipbuilding Division, Mrs. Howard C. Williams of Grayling, Michigan proceeded with the ritual breaking of a bottle of champagne across the bow of the newest Maritime Prepositioning Ship (MPS) built at the Quincy, Mass. yard and named after Mrs. Williams' heroic U.S. Marine Corps son who was a posthumous Medal of Honor recipient from the Viet Nam War. PFC Dewayne T. Williams, second in a five-ship program of vessels designed to preposition military vehicles and supplies in support of USMC personnel comprising the Rapid Deployment Force will be delivered to the U.S. Navy's Military Sealift Command next month. Joining Mrs. Williams in the ceremonies are David S. Lewis, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, General Dynamics Corp., and Mrs. Williams six other children.

Special Olympians to Compete At State Summer Games

Mt. Pleasant — Mentally impaired athletes who have been training and competing for months in communities across the state will gather at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant May 30 through June 1 to participate in the 1985 Michigan Special Olympics State Summer Games. The Games are sponsored by Spartan Stores of Michigan.

"The State Summer Games will bring together more than 3,000 mentally impaired athletes and their coaches," explained Lois Arnold, Games Director and Sports and Training Director for Michigan Special Olympics. "Our competitive events are set up to allow these athletes to compete against others of similar age and ability."

A spectacular Opening Ceremonies will kick off the Games on Thursday, May 30 at 6 p.m. in Kelly Shorts Stadium. Arnold said the "best ceremonies ever" is planned to commemorate the tenth anniversary of the 1975 International Special Olympics Summer Games which were held at Central Michigan University.

Competition in track and field, swimming, diving, gymnastics, bowling, frisbee, horseshoes, cross country running, wheelchair events, and punt, pass and kick will run all day Friday, May 31 and Saturday, June 1. Outdoor recreational activities will keep athletes busy when they aren't competing. Closing Ceremonies and the victory dance will conclude the Games on Saturday evening in Rose Center.

More than 1,000 volunteers have been recruited from throughout Michigan to help run the Games. "Our program is one which depends 100 percent on volunteers. Volunteers plan and run the events. All the coaches and chaperones are volunteers and so are the people who run the local and county programs. We couldn't do it without them," Arnold said.

Michigan Special Olympics is a year-round program of sports training and competition for mentally impaired children and adults. Six state tournaments are held throughout the year in various sports but Arnold said the heart of the program lies in the local Special Olympics programs across the state...350 programs which reach 27,000 mentally impaired persons.

"A state event like the State Summer Games is a fantastic experience for the athletes but the local training programs and competition are what make Michigan Special Olympics work," Arnold explained.

She said a concentrated effort at training coaches who work with Special Olympians has resulted in improved skill levels and consistent competition statewide.

"Special Olympics gives mentally impaired people the chance to set goals and to accomplish things you and I take for granted. It puts the emphasis on what they can do rather than reminding them of what they can't do. And they can do a lot!"

Chamber Chatter

The end result of a good education including awareness and discipline is very much in evidence as our young people are exposed to the everyday public. We are speaking of course, of the fine performances of the Viking Singers and their director, Howard Taylor, and the professional attitude of confidence and talent was a pleasure to hear and observe.

Along those same thought waves we were recently honored by a visit of Jerry Hayes' 4th grade class of the Elementary School. Most have never been in a Chamber of Commerce Office, let alone understand its function. It was a delightful experience for us, trying to explain to 50 wide-eyed kids why you have so many maps, brochures, pictures, and giveaways. The questions asked by the kids made it easier for us to "tune-in" to their wave length of understanding and satisfactorily give them the information they sought. Just a few days ago to celebrate Michigan Week, the kids brought into the Chamber office a huge map depicting outstanding areas and the end product that made a community famous. The map emphasizes their efforts of study for the Michigan economic. The map measures about 3 ft. by 4 ft. and covers one of our walls. The picture story shows that Grayling has the famous rivers, AuSable and Manistee; Detroit has Automobiles; Traverse City has Cherries; and so on and so on. We wish to congratulate these youngsters and their teacher Jerry Hayes, Well Done!

The Chamber's effort to become more involved in Community affairs was exemplified in a recent publication of the avalanche with a full page listing the current Membership of the Chamber, a message to the Community supported by those Members listed and a general invitation to join the ranks of Membership in their goals and objectives in making Grayling a better place for everything. "We Mean Business" for sure.

This week we welcome Mrs. Sophia Naujakas into membership. Mrs. Naujakas has a mobile home on M-72 East that she rents to summer tourists.

Another new member is Victor J. Parsons, Advertising Specialties located in our sister town of Frederic. Vic has many many novelties for advertising and is anxious to assist with his products. Give him a call at 348-9817.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

The price of liberty

One of the most distinguished statesmen and orators of the Revolutionary War of America was Patrick Henry. It was in 1775 that he said, "Give me liberty or give me death."

Since that time many men and women have given their lives for the cause of freedom.

As Memorial Day comes upon us, let us remember those servicemen and women who made the great sacrifice. Through their bravery, we have been given the right to choose our own faith and destiny.

Today's Older American

By Nancy K. Holcomb
Activities Director
Grayling Health Care Center
Proclaimed as Older Americans' Month by President Reagan is the month of May.

Older Americans' Month has been proclaimed to celebrate the achievements, to acknowledge the ongoing contributions and to recognize the needs of today's senior citizen.

According to President Reagan, "I urge all Americans to remember the contributions our older citizens have made in building America. These men and women are an important link with traditional American values for our young people today. Continued contact between older and younger Americans helps to strengthen these values for our future."

"To Serve, Not to Be Served" is the motto of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP), one of 24 organizations nationwide representing seniors.

According to the 1980 census, 11.3% of all Americans are over 65 years of age - some are workers, some are retired professionals, some are learners, some are teachers and some are volunteers.

Volunteers such as the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) who offer a valuable resource of services from transporting other seniors to doctors and "Meals on Wheels" to entertaining in nursing homes. The RSVP of Crawford County has 195 volunteers who are active in the community.

Coinciding with Older Americans' Month, May has also been designated as National Arthritis Month, Better Speech and Hearing Month, National High Blood Pressure Month and National Physical Fitness and Sports Month to educate the public about these issues which are of special concern to the aging.

Bits O'Talk

William & Patricia Butts of Grayling would like to announce the birth of their baby girl, Toshia Marie, born May 8, 1985, weighing 7 lbs. 12 ozs. and measuring 20 inches long. The proud grandparents are Mildred Walker of Grayling, and Mr. and Mrs. Lagona Butts of Vanderbilt.

Recent weekend visitors of Mrs. Carl Bartell at Lake Margarethe had been her family, the Jack Smiths of Fremont, John Wilson's of Jackson, the David Welch's of Rockford, & the Paul Hendrickson's of Alpena, and they also visited the Dave Englund's.

Resolution

Whereas, George H. McClellan commenced employment with the City of Grayling on October 11, 1971, and

Whereas, he has worked as custodian of Grayling City Hall and the surrounding grounds, and

Whereas, he has performed his duties in a most exemplary manner, keeping the building and grounds clean and neat and in good repair, conducting himself in a courteous and helpful manner, and

Whereas, circumstances have made it necessary for Mr. McClellan to take an early retirement on May 1, 1985.

Now, Therefore be it Resolved that the Grayling City Council and the Administration wish to express their Thanks to George H. McClellan for his years of dedicated service to the citizens of Grayling and to wish him a long and fulfilling retirement. We further declare that May 31, 1985 shall be designated as George McClellan Day in Grayling.

Over 60 Different Herb
Plants for Sale

A 2-hr. hands-on mini workshop for design, efficiency, soil, and maintenance of an herb garden is scheduled for Sat., June 8, from 1 to 3 p.m. Cost is $5.00 per person.

The Lilliona Gardens consist of over 7,000 square feet of gardens with over 200 species of herbs and spices cultivated in a formal setting. We have the bed of mints, the aquatic bed, the Circle of St. Francis for the dry and dye plants, the mini maze of Artemisia and culinary plants. Then we have our large outside beds of flowers, plants donated by people from around Michigan, and shrubs and trees.

These gardens took over two years of planning and a year's labor, but this is only the beginning. The gardens will always continue to change.

On Saturday, June 1, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., we are celebrating the Grand Opening of the Lilliona Gardens by giving away one basil or parsley plant to each family who views our free gardens.

While you are here visit the spice shop and check out one of Michigan's largest spice rack. Over 150 herbs and spices that are not only fresher than commercial, but at considerably lower prices. The purchase of one spice usually pays for the trip here.

Diona Cerelli, Certified Herbalist, will be on hand to answer any questions you may have on herbs, their growth, habits, and uses.
